

Another Successful year was had at the Parent Petroleum 17th Annual Golf Classic
Fueling Research to Cure Blindness

The 17th Annual Parent Petroleum Golf Classic produced another successful fundraising event. Held at the Historic St. Andrews Golf & Country Club in West Chicago, IL, this well-manicured course with contoured greens provided an inspiring setting for a great day of golf. The afternoon was capped off with a delightful dinner reception, which included raffle drawings, a silent auction and the presentation of awards. Celebrity guests former Bears defensive end Ed O'Bradovich, and the 1985 Bears Super bowl Hall-of-Famer Dan Hampton joined Doug Buffone for a fun-filled hour of Bears talk. The all-day event raised nearly $100,000 to help support the team of Dr. Michael Grassi at the Eye and Ear Infirmary of UIC, along with a group of scientists from the Hope for Vision Foundation. Two highly motivated organizations who are dedicated to finding cures for blindness through scientific research. A special thanks to Ann Rasch, the Greater Chicago Community of Hope, BP, Castrol, the Motor Werks of Barrington and all of our Parent Petroleum, suppliers, customers and friends who helped to raise funds for this worthy cause.
